Dear Cheryl,

BODINGLEE WIND FARM: FURTHER ENVIRONMENTAL INFORMATION

Please find enclosed an electronic copy of OnPath Energy (Bodinglee Wind Farm) Limited's (formerly Banks Renewables (Bodinglee Wind Farm) Limited) Further Environmental Information (FEI) submission in relation to Bodinglee Wind Farm.

This FEI is being submitted to present an appraisal of the potential for effects arising from the grid route connection. This follows the original design submitted in 2023 alongside the 2023 Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) Report and S36 Application, and the Further Environmental Information which set out the assessment of the Revised Proposed Design submitted in May 2025.

There are no proposed design changes.

The following information has been provided as part of the FEI submission:

- FEI Submission – provides an overview of the indicative grid connection type, an indicative corridor and the likelihood for it to give rise to any significant environmental effects, alone or in-combination with the Proposed Development. Based on the information available at this stage, it is not considered that the construction and operation of the indicative grid connection will result in significant short-term (during construction) or long-term (during operation) effects if the final grid connection route follows careful routing and design, as well as the implementation of standard good practice and mitigation measures.

Copies of the FEI submitted explaining the Company's proposals in more detail, the application and EIA Report are available for public inspection, free of charge on the application website <https://www.onpathenergy.com/bodinglee> or on the Scottish Government Energy Consents website at www.energyconsents.scot under application reference ECU00004839.

The FEI is also available for public inspection in person until 24 August 2026, free of charge at:
